From Tuesday December 21. to Saturday December 25. 1742.

Westminster, December 25.

ON Tuesday last his Majesty came to the House of Peers, and having made a most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament, (which was inserted in the last Gazette) His Majesty was pleased to give the Royal Assent to,

An Act for granting an Aid to his Majesty by a Land Tax, to be raised in Great Britain, for the Service of the Year One thousand seven hundred and forty three.

An Act for continuing the Duties upon Malt, Mum, Cyder, and Perry, in that Part of Great Britain called England; and for granting to his Majesty certain Duties upon Malt, Mum, Cyder, and Perry, in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland, for the Service of the Year One thousand seven hundred and forty three.

And to One private Bill.

An Account of the late Invasion of Georgia, drawn out by Lieutenant Patrick Sutherland, of General Oglethorpe's Regiment, who lately arrived in England, and was sent Express on that Occasion, but being taken by the Spaniards off the Lizard, was obliged to throw the said Express and his other Papers over-board.

THE Beginning of May last, the Spaniards fitted out their Fleet from the Havannah, consisting of 56 Sail, and between 7 or 8000 Men, with an Intention to invade Georgia and South Carolina, and the other Northern Colonies: At their first setting out, in turning the Moor Castle, they lost a large Settee with 150 Men; a few Days after their Fleet was dispersed by a Storm, so that all the Shipping did not arrive at Augustine. The latter End of May, or Beginning of June, Captain Hamar of the Flamborough, in his Cruize to the Southward, sent in to General Oglethorpe for Intelligence, who acquainted him, that he would probably meet with some Spanish Vessels to the Southward of Augustine, which he accordingly did, and engaged 10 Sail, off the Musqueto's, and drove some of them a-shore, but in the Action lost his Boat and 17 of his Men. He on his Return acquainted the General with what had happened, and could not then come in for the Defence of Georgia, but proceeded to Charles-Town, to clean his Ship. The General thereupon sent Lieutenant Maxwell by Water, and Lieutenant Hugh Mackay, over Land, to Carolina, with Advice to the Governor; but no Assistance came from thence till after the Retreat of the Spaniards. Lieutenant Colonel Cook was at Charles-Town, in his Way to England, when Lieutenant Maxwell arrived with the said Advice.

The 21st of June, 9 Sail attempted to come into Amelia Sound, but the 18 Pounders from Fort William, and the Guard Schooner with 80 Men, commanded by Capt. Dunbar, fired so briskly, that they sheered off as fast as they could. The General, on this Advice, resolving to support the Forts on Cumberland, set out with a Detachment of the Regiment on board his Boats, sent Captain Horton, with his Company of Grenadiers before, and was himself obliged to fight his Way with 2 Boats thro' 14 Sail of Spanish Vessels, which endeavoured to intercept him in Cumberland Sound. In this Engagement several of the Spaniards being killed, the said Vessels set out to Sea, and did not join their Fleet till the Day before they left St. Simon's Sound. Lieutenant Tolson, who commanded the Boat of the greatest Strength, instead of following the General, run into a Marsh, where he was till next Morning, and then returned to St. Simon's, for which Misbehaviour he was put in Arrest, in order to be tryed. Major Heron, from the Shore, seeing the General surrounded by the Enemy, and hid in Smoak, concluded him lost; but next Day, to the great Joy of the People, he he returned in the Guard Schooner to St. Simon's, after having withdrawn the Command from St. Andrew's, and the Stores and Artillery that were there, and reinforced Fort William, where he left one of the Boats he had with him.

He having laid an Embargo on all the Veſſels in the Harbour, took Captain Thomſon's Ship, which mounted 20 Guns, into the King's Service, and manned her out of the ſmall Veſſels which were of no Force; he alſo called in the Highland Company from Darien, Captain Carr's Company of Marines, and the Rangers from where they were differently detached, and ſent Mr. Mullryne to Carolina to get all the Men he could.

The 28th of June the Spaniſh Fleet came to Anchor off St. Simon's Bar, who were diverted from coming in or landing any of their Troops for ſeveral Days, in which time the General raiſed another Troop of Rangers, and by rewarding thoſe who did extraordinary Duty, and promiſing great Encouragement to all who ſhould ſignalize themſelves on this Occaſion, he kept up the Spirits of the People and encreaſed their Numbers daily.

The 5th of July, with the Tide of Flood, and a brisk Gale, 36 Sail of Spaniſh Veſſels entered St. Simon's Harbour, nine of which were large Topmaſt Veſſels; we received them with a brisk Fire from our Batteries and Ships, hulled ſeveral of them with our 18 Pounders from the Fort, and our four Pounders from the lower Battery. The Spaniſh Commodore on board a Ship of 22 Guns, with a Settee with an 18 Pounder, and two nine Pounders in her Bow, attempted to board Captain Thomſon's Ship, but he with his great Guns, Captain Carr with his Company of Marines, and Lieut. Wall, and Enſign Oterbridge with a Party of the Regiment, made ſo brave a Defence, that the Spaniards were obliged to retire with Loſs. A Snow of 16 Carriage Guns at the ſame time attempted to board our Guard Schooner, but was alſo repulſed by Captain Dunbar. The Engagement laſted upwards of three Hours, in which Engagement the Enemy loſt 17 Men and had 10 wounded: They paſſed all our Veſſels and proceeded up the River, on which the General held a Council of War at the Head of his Regiment, where it was the Opinion of the Whole immediately to march up to Frederica for the Defence of that Place. The General accordingly gave Orders for the Regiment to march, and ordered all the Troops that were on board the Veſſels to come aſhore, and directed Captain Thomſon with the Guard Schooner and Prize Sloop, to make the beſt of their Way to Charles Town; and this was all done in Sight of the Enemy.

The General, during this Action, being obliged to be ſometimes on Shipboard, ſometimes at the Batteries, and to act as Engineer, found himſelf under a Neceſſity of having a Lieutenant Colonel with the Regiment; he therefore appointed Major Alexander Heron Lieutenant Colonel, in the Abſence of Lieutenant Colonel Cook, who was alſo Engineer; and whoſe Sub-Engineer having attended him to Charles-Town, was alſo abſent. Late at Night the General arrived at Frederica, after having deſtroyed all the Stores at St. Simon's, and ſunk the Veſſels that might be of uſe to the Enemy, and rendered the Guns incapable of Service, and ordered the Wounded to be carried off on Horſeback. That Night the Enemy landed their Forces on a dry Marſh about a Mile and a half from the Camp, under cover of their great Guns; They lay all that Night under Arms, and the next Morning took Poſſeſſion of the Camp which we left. About Noon the Creek Indians brought us five Spaniſh Priſoners, from whom we had Intelligence, that Don Manuel de Monteano, Governor of St. Auguſtine, commanded in Chief the Expedition; And that Major General Antonio de Rodondo, chief Engineer, and two Brigadiers, came with the Forces from Cuba: That their whole Number conſiſted of about 5000, and that the Night before they had landed about 4300 Men; one of the Priſoners the General ſent with Mr. Bedon to Charles-Town.

The 7th of July, about nine in the Morning a Ranger of the Patrole, brought an Account, that the Enemy were marching within a Mile and half of the Town; whereupon the General immediately ordered four Platoons of the Regiment to march, and in the mean Time went himſelf with the Highland Company, who were then under Arms. The Indians and a Party of Rangers came up with the Enemy about a Mile from the Town, as they were entering the Savannah, to take Poſſeſſion of a Ditch they had a Mind to uſe as an Intrenchment, but the Enemy were attached ſo briskly, that the General ſoon overcame them; moſt of their Party, which conſiſted of 120 of their beſt Woodſmen and 40 Indians, being either killed or taken Priſoners. The General took two Priſoners with his own Hands. Lieutenant Scroggs of the Rangers took Captain Sebaſtian Sanchio Priſoner, who commanded the Party. Tooanohowi being ſhot thro' his Right Arm by Captain Mageleto, drew his Piſtol with the left and ſhot him thro' the Head. The General purſued the Enemy near two Miles, and halted on an advantageous piece of Ground until the Party of the Regiment came up: He poſted them with the Highlanders in a Wood with a large Savannah or Meadow in their Front, over which the Spaniards muſt paſs in their Way to Frederica; after which he haſtned back to Frederica, and ordered the Rangers and Company of Boatmen to make ready. In the mean Time two Companies of Grenadiers of 50 Men each, and 200 more of the Enemy's beſt Troops came up with Shouts and Drums beating. Whereupon the General hearing Platoons firing, immediately made haſte that Way, and met three of the Platoons, who, in the Smoak and drizling Rain, had retreated in Diſorder; and the Fire continuing, he ordered them to rally their Men and follow him, who haſtening on, found that Lieutenant Sutherland with his Platoon, and Lieutenant Charles Mackay with the Highlanders, had entirely defeated the ſaid 300 of the Enemy. In which Action Don Antonio Barba was made Priſoner and mortally wounded; ſeveral others were killed, and two Grenadiers were taken Priſoners. Captain Demeret and Enſign Gibbon rallied their Platoons, and came up to the Ground. Captain Carr with his Company of Marines, and Lieutenant Cadogan with a Party of the Regiment, came up at the ſame Time, and were followed by Major Heron with the Body of the Regiment. In both Actions the Enemy loſt two Captains, one Lieutenant, two Serjeants, two Drums, and about 160 private Men; and one Captain and 19 Men were taken Priſoners. The General with the Regiment halted all Night about a Mile and a half from the Enemy's Camp, to intercept thoſe who had ſtraggled in the Woods, and expecting the Enemy to make a ſecond Attempt to march in the Morning. But the General having advanced with a Party of Indians before Daybreak towards the Spaniſh Camp, found them all retreated into the Ruins of the Fort, and under Cover of their Cannon. Next Morning, the 8th of July, the General and his Men returned to Frederica, and he appointed a General Staff, viz. Lieutenants Primroſe, Maxwell, and Hugh Mackay, Aids de Camp; Lieutenant Sutherland, Brigade Major; and Serjeant John Stewart, ſecond Enſign, for his brave Behaviour in the laſt Engagement.

The 9th and 10th of July, all Hands were employed in the Works at Frederica, and the Indians brought us in ſome Scalps and Priſoners.

The 11th of July, a Settee and two Quarter Galley came within Gun-ſhot of the Town; but, on our firing ſome Guns and Bombs from the Fort, and the General going towards them with his Boats, they returned to their Fleet, and, with the reſt, drew up in Line of Battle. The next Morning, being the 12th of July, an Engliſh Priſoner eſcaped from them, who informed us, that the Enemy, on their Landing, had reſolved to give no Quarter; but from the Day their Grenadiers were defeated, they had been in great Terror, and intrenched themſelves, and given Orders that no one ſhould go without their Centinels for Fear of being ſurprized by the Indians. By other Priſoners and Deſerters we were alſo told, that, on calling over their Rolls, there were 240 Men, and 19 of their Indians, miſſing; that there were great Diviſions among them, inſomuch that Don Antonio de Rodondo, who commanded the Cuba Forces, encamped ſeparate from thoſe of Auguſtine, and that the Commodore had ordered all his Seamen on board. That Night the General, with 500 Men, marched within a Mile of the Enemy's Camp, intending to ſurprize them, but was prevented by the Treachery of a Frenchman, who was got among the Company of Boatmen, and fired his Piece, and gave the Alarm to the Enemy, and then deſerted to them. When the General found his Intention diſcovered to the Enemy, he ordered all his Drums to beat the Grenadiers March, and then returned to Frederica. The General the next Day, being the 13th of July, in order to defeat the Informations of the French Deſerter, directed a Letter to be wrote and ſent by a Spaniſh Priſoner, who, for the Sake of Money the General gave him, and the Promiſe of Liberty, undertook to deliver it to the ſaid Frenchman; wherein he was inſtructed to acquaint the Enemy's Commanding Officer of the defenceleſs State of Frederica, and encourage them to come up by Water under his Pilotage. Which Letter the Spaniſh Priſoner delivered to the Governor of Auguſtine, and it had ſo good Effect, that the ſaid Frenchman was immediately taken into Cuſtody, and looked upon as a double Spy, and thereupon put into Irons. The next Morning, being the 14th of July, the Spaniards burned the Barracks and Officers Houſes at St. Simon's, and Captain Horton's Houſe on Jekyll, and the ſame Night they reimbarked with ſo much Precipitation, that they left a Quantity of Ammunition, Proviſions, and ſome Guns behind them.

The 15th of July, all the large Veſſels, with the Cuba Forces on board, ſailed to the Southward; and the Governor and Troops from Auguſtine, on board the ſmall Craft, went within Land, and encamped in St. Andrews, and caught 50 Horſes with a Deſign to carry them away; but on the General's appearing in his Boats, the Enemy ſhot the ſaid Horſes, and burnt the Fort and Houſes at St. Andrews.

The General next Day, being the 16th of July, followed the Spaniards with all his ſmall Craft, but was not ſtrong enough to attack them. He landed a Man out of his Boat on Cumberland, who that Night paſſed the Enemy's Camp, and early the next Morning came to Fort William with Advice to Enſign Stewart, that the Spaniards were beat off St. Simons, and that the General was coming with Succours, and ordered him to defend the Fort to the utmoſt.

The 18th of July, 28 Sail of Spaniſh Veſſels appeared off Fort William, 14 of which came within Land, and attacked the Fort from their Gallies and other Veſſels, and attempted to land, but were repulſed by a Party of Rangers from behind the Sand Hills. Enſign Stewart who commanded with 60 Men in the Fort, defended it ſo bravely, that after an Attack of upwards of three Hours, they were obliged to put to Sea with conſiderable Loſs. The 18 Pounders there diſabled two of their Gallies.

The

The 19th of July, the General was on his Way to Fort William.

The 20th of July, the General arrived at Fort William, and ſent his Boats and Rangers as far as the River St. John, who returned the next Day, being the 21ſt of July, and brought Advice, that the Enemy was quite gone; upon which the General gave neceſſary Orders for the Repairing Fort William, and on the 22d, returned to Frederica. A few Days afterwards the Men of War from Charles Town came off St. Simon's Bar; and Captain Thompſon, with ſome Voluntiers from Carolina, our Guard Schooner, and two Gallies, came into St. Simon's Harbour; and Captain Hardy of the Rye Man of War, receiving a Meſſage from the General by Lieutenant Maxwell who went on board him, ſent for Anſwer, That he would take a Cruize with the reſt of the King's Ships.

But the General apprehending the Spaniards, upon recovering their Fright, might return with more Courage and better Conduct, continued Captain Thomſon's Ship in the King's Service, and ſent Expreſſes over Land, to the Northern Provinces on this Occaſion.

A Liſt of ſome of the Spaniſh Forces employed in the Invaſion of Georgia, under the Command of Bruſſels, Jan. 2, N. S. There are ſeveral Letters here, which poſitively affirm, that Marſhal Belliſle marched out of Prague the 18th paſt, N. S. with 11,000 Foot and 3,000 Horſe, and took the Road towards Egra, having left a Garriſon of 6000 Men in the former Place, under the Command of the Count de Baviere.

Whitehall, December 25.

On the 7th Inſtant, in the Latitude of 49--40. Scilly bearing E. half N. Diſtance 63 Leagues, his Majeſty's Ship the Bridgewater, commanded by Captain Rogers, fell in with a Spaniſh Privateer at half an Hour paſt Nine o'Clock in the Forenoon, which being to Windward, bore down upon the Bridgewater. Captain Rogers kept cloſe upon a Wind, under double reeft Topſails and Courſes. At Eleven o'Clock the Privateer hoiſted an Engliſh Enſign, and fired a Shot at the Bridgewater; whereupon Captain Rogers hoiſted a Dutch Enſign, haul'd up his Mainſail, and back'd his Maintopſail; but finding ſoon after that the Privateer made Sail from him, he haul'd down the Dutch Enſign, hoiſted Engliſh Colours, and gave her a Broadſide; upon this the Privateer took down her Engliſh Enſign, hoiſted Spaniſh, and made all poſſible Sail from the Bridgewater, and fired her Stern Chaſe Guns. Captain Rogers crouded Sail after her, and ply'd her with his Bow Chaſe Guns till Three in the Afternoon, when he came up with her, and gave her another Broadſide, which ſhe returned; but Captain Rogers then finding that ſhe ſhot from him, deferr'd firing any more till he came cloſe up with her. About Nine, being cloſe under her Lee Quarter, he gave her another Broadſide, and Small Arms, upon which ſhe called for Quarter, and Captain Rogers has brought her into Plymouth. She is called the Santa la Rita, alias, El Neptuno, carried 140 Men, with 18 Carriage and 8 Swivel Guns, and came out of Bilboa a few Days before ſhe was taken.

General Poſt Office, London, July 3, 1742.

Whereas divers Perſons, thro' Ignorance or Careleſneſs, frequently put Letters into the General Poſt Offices, and the Receiving Houſes both in Town and Country, directed on board of Ships, and to Foreign Parts, without paying at the ſame Time the Poſtage, as ought to be done; And whereas Letters and Packets are often put into the ſaid Offices with Money and Rings incloſed, and in Fraud of his Majeſty's Revenue, divers Perſons preſume to ſend Letters with falſe and counterfeit Franks.

This is to acquaint the Publick, that no Letters under any of the Circumſtances aforeſaid have any Right by Law to be forwarded.

Note, That Letters going out of Great Britain (except to France, Holland, and Flanders) have by the ancient Uſage of this Office paid the Foreign Poſtage, and are required by the Act of Parliament ſo to do, at the

the Office in Great Britain where the ſame are firſt put in.

Note alſo, That if ſuch Letters to Foreign Parts are put into any of the Country Offices, the Inland Poſtage of ſuch Letters to London muſt alſo be paid on putting the ſame into ſuch Office.

By Command of the Poſt Maſter General, George Shelvocke, Secretary.
